What are Lokpal and Lokayukta?

- Lokpal and Lokayukta Act, 2013 The provided for the establishment of Lokpal for the Union and Lokayukta for States.
- statutory bodies These institutions are without any constitutional status.
- They perform the function of an "ombudsman" and inquire into allegations of corruption against certain public functionaries and for related matters.

Why do we need such institutions?

- Maladministration is like a termite which slowly erodes the foundation of a nation and hinders administration from completing its task. Corruption is the root cause of this problem.
- Most of the anti-corruption agencies are hardly independent. Even Supreme Court has been termed CBI as a "caged parrot" and "its master's voice".
- Many of these agencies are advisory bodies without any effective powers and their advice is rarely followed.
- There is also the problem of internal transparency and accountability. Moreover, there is not any separate and effective mechanism to put checks on these agencies.
- In this context, an independent institution of Lokpal has been a landmark move in the history of Indian polity which offered a solution to the never-ending menace of corruption.

Background

- inaugurated officially in Sweden In 1809, the institution of ombudsman was .
- In the 20th century, Ombudsman as an institution developed and grew most significantly after the Second World War.
- New Zealand and Norway adopted this system in the year 1962 and it proved to be of great significance in spreading the concept of the ombudsman.

- In 1966, Guyana became the first developing nation to adopt the concept of the ombudsman. Subsequently, it was further adopted by Mauritius, Singapore, Malaysia, and India as well.
- first proposed by the then law minister Ashok Kumar Sen in parliament in the early 1960s. In India, the concept of constitutional ombudsman was
- coined by Dr. L. M. Singhvi. The term Lokpal and Lokayukta were
- In 1966, the First Administrative Reforms Commission recommended the setting up of two independent authorities- at the central and state level, to look into complaints against public functionaries, including MPs.
- In 1968, Lokpal bill was passed in Lok Sabha but lapsed with the dissolution of Lok Sabha and since then it has lapsed in the Lok Sabha many times.
- Till 2011 eight attempts were made to pass the Bill, but all met with failure.
- Review the Working of the Constitution headed by M.N. Venkatachaliah recommended the appointment of the Lokpal and Lokayuktas In 2002, the Commission to ; also recommended that the PM kept out of the ambit of the authority.
- Second Administrative Reforms Commission chaired by Veerappa Moily In 2005, the recommended that the office of Lokpal should be established without delay.
- In 2011, the government formed a Group of Ministers, chaired by Pranab Mukherjee to suggest measures to tackle corruption and examine the proposal of a Lokpal Bill.
- "India Against Corruption movement" led by Anna Hazare put pressure on the United Progressive Alliance (UPA) government at the Centre and resulted in the passing of the Lokpal and Lokayuktas Bill, 2013, in both the Houses of Parliament.
- It received assent from President on 1 January 2014 and came into force on 16 January 2014.

The Lokpal and Lokayuktas (Amendment) Bill, 2016

- This Bill was passed by Parliament in July 2016 and amended the Lokpal and Lokayukta Act, 2013.
- enables the leader of the single largest opposition party in the Lok Sabha to be a member of the selection committee It in the absence of a recognized Leader of Opposition.
- It also amended section 44 of the 2013 Act that deals with the provision of furnishing of details of assets and liabilities of public servants within 30 days of joining the government service.
- The Bill replaces the time limit of 30 days, now the public servants will make a declaration of their assets and liabilities in the form and manner as prescribed by the government.

- It also gives an extension of the time given to trustees and board members to declare their assets and those of their spouses in case of these are receiving government funds of more than Rs. 1 crore or foreign funding of more than Rs. 10 lakh.

- For selecting the chairperson and the members, the selection committee constitutes a search panel of at least eight persons.

Lokpal Search Committee

- Under the Lokpal Act of 2013, the DoPT is supposed to put together a list of candidates interested to be the chairperson or members of the Lokpal.
- This list would then go to the proposed eight-member search committee, which would shortlist names and place them before the selection panel headed by the Prime Minister.
- The selection panel may or may not pick names suggested by the search committee.
- government had constituted a search committee headed by former Supreme Court judge Justice Ranjana Prakash Desai. In September 2018, the

- The 2013 Act also provides that all states should set up the office of the Lokayukta within one year from the commencement of the Act.

Lokpal Jurisdiction and Powers

- includes Prime Minister, Ministers, members of Parliament, Groups A, B, C and D officers and officials of Central Government. Jurisdiction of Lokpal
- and Jurisdiction of the Lokpal included the Prime Minister except on allegations of corruption relating to international relations, security, the public order, atomic energy space.
- The Lokpal does not have jurisdiction over Ministers and MPs in the matter of anything said in Parliament or a vote given there.
- bribe taking Its jurisdiction also includes any person who is or has been in charge (director/ manager/ secretary) of anybody/ society set up by central act or any other body financed/ controlled by central government and any other person involved in act of abetting, bribe giving or .

It
- vested with the powers of a civil court. The Inquiry Wing of the Lokpal has been
- and powers of confiscation of assets, proceeds, receipts benefits arisen or procured by means of corruption Lokpal has in special circumstances.
- power to recommend transfer or suspension of public servant Lokpal has the connected with allegation of corruption.
- power to give directions to prevent the destruction of records Lokpal has the during the preliminary inquiry.

Limitations

- lokpal much needed The institution of has tried to bring a change in the battle against corruption in the administrative structure of India but at the same time, there are loopholes and lacunae which need to be corrected.
- lack of political will.
The Lokpal act also called upon states to appoint a Lokayukta within a year of its coming to force. But only 16 states have established the Lokayukta.
Five years have passed since the Lokpal and Lokayuktas Act 2013 was passed by parliament, but not a single Lokpal has been appointed till date indicating the
- not free from political influence Lokpal is as the appointing committee itself consist of members from political parties.

- The appointment of Lokpal can be manipulated in a way as there is no criterion to decide who is an 'eminent jurist' or 'a person of integrity.'
- whistle blowers did not provide concrete immunity to the .The 2013 act The provision for initiation of inquiry against the complainant if the accused is found innocent will only discourage people from complaining.
- exclusion of judiciary from the ambit of the Lokpal. The biggest lacuna is the
- not given any constitutional backingThe Lokpal is and there is no adequate provision for appeal against the Lokpal.
- The specific details in relation to the appointment of Lokayukta have been left completely on the States.
- To some extent, the need for functional independence of the CBI has been catered to by a change brought forth in the selection process of its Director, by this Act.
- offenceThe complaint against corruption cannot be registered after a period of seven years from the date on which the mentioned in such complaint is alleged to have been committed.

Suggestions

- institution of the ombudsman should be strengthenedIn order to tackle the problem of corruption, the both in terms of functional autonomy and availability of manpower.
- Greater transparency, more right to information and empowerment of citizens and citizen groupsa good is required along with leadership that is willing to subject itself to public scrutiny.
- Appointment of Lokpal in itself is not enough. The government should address the issues based on which people are demanding a Lokpal. Merely adding to the strength of investigative agencies will increase the size of the government but not necessarily improve governance. The slogan adopted by the government of "less government and more governance", should be followed in letter and spirit.
- financiallyMoreover, Lokpal and Lokayukta must be , administratively and legally independent of those whom they are called upon to investigate and prosecute.
- Lokpal and Lokayukta appointments must be done transparently so as to minimize the chances of the wrong sorts of people getting in.
- There is a need for a multiplicity of decentralized institutions with appropriate accountability mechanisms, to avoid the concentration of too much power, in any one institution or authority.
