For Prelims: Court of Arbitration, Indus Waters Treaty, Permanent Court of Arbitration \(PCA\), World Bank

For Mains: Indus Waters Treaty and associated implementation issues.

Why in News?

The Hague-based Permanent Court of Arbitration (PCA) recently ruled that it has the competence to hear Pakistan's objections to India's Kishenganga and Ratle hydroelectric projects in Jammu and Kashmir.

- India, however, rejects the constitution of the "Court of Arbitration," asserting that it goes against the provisions of the Indus Waters Treaty \(IWT\).

What is Indus Waters Treaty?

// The Indus Waters Treaty (IWT)

- The distribution of waters of the Indus and its tributaries between India and Pakistan is governed by the Indus Water Treaty (IWT).
- Was signed on Sept 19, 1960, between India, Pakistan and a representative of World Bank after nine years of negotiations.
- Partition of India cut across the Indus river basin, which has the Indus river, plus five of its main tributaries.

Western rivers
Chenab, Jhelum, Indus

India's rights over these rivers: Limited — can set up certain irrigation, run-of-the-river power plants, very limited storage, domestic and non-consumptive use, all subject to conditions

Eastern rivers
Sutlej, Beas, Ravi

India's rights over these rivers: All exclusive rights lie with India.

Indus Waters Commission a success story

MAP NOT TO SCALE

- About:

- The Indus Waters Treaty is a water-sharing agreement between India and Pakistan.

- The treaty was brokered by the World Bank and signed on September 19, 1960.
- It governs the distribution and utilization of the waters of the Indus River system, which includes six rivers: Indus, Jhelum, Chenab, Ravi, Beas, and Sutlej.
- The treaty aims to promote cooperation and peaceful management of transboundary water resources between India and Pakistan.
- Allocation of Rivers:
 - Under the treaty, three eastern rivers (Ravi, Beas, and Sutlej) are allocated to India for unrestricted use.
 - The three western rivers (Indus, Jhelum, and Chenab) are allocated to Pakistan for unrestricted use.
 - India is allowed limited use of the western rivers for domestic, non-consumptive, and agricultural purposes.
- Key Provisions:
 - Construction of Projects:
 - The treaty permits India to construct run-of-the-river hydroelectric projects on the western rivers, subject to certain conditions.
 - Dispute Resolution:
 - Communication via Permanent Indus Commission (PIC):
 - PIC has a commissioner from each country.
 - Parties inform each other about planned projects on the Indus River.
 - PIC facilitates the exchange of necessary information.
 - Aimed at resolving differences and avoiding escalation.
 - Neutral Expert:
 - If the PIC fails to resolve the issue, it advances to the next level.
 - The World Bank appoints a neutral expert.
 - Expert attempts to resolve differences.
 - Court of Arbitration (CoA):
 - If a neutral expert fails, the dispute goes to CoA.
 - CoA resolves the dispute through arbitration.
 - The IWT states that Neutral Expert and CoA steps are mutually exclusive, meaning that only one of them can be used at a time for a given dispute.

What is the Hydroelectric Project Dispute Between India and Pakistan?

- Hydroelectric Projects:
 - The case involves a dispute between India and Pakistan over the Kishenganga hydroelectric project (on the Kishanganga River, a tributary of the Jhelum River), and the Ratle hydroelectric project (on the Chenab River) in Jammu and Kashmir.
 - The two countries disagree over whether the technical design features of these two hydroelectric plants contravene the IWT.
- Pakistan's Objections:
 - Pakistan objects to the hydroelectric projects, citing violations of the IWT, concerns about reduced water flow, environmental impact, and differing treaty interpretations.
 - In 2016, Pakistan retracted its request for a Neutral Expert and proposed a CoA instead.
 - India requested the appointment of a Neutral Expert in 2016, emphasizing its importance in the process, which Pakistan sought to bypass.
- World Bank Intervention:
 - World Bank paused the process due to separate requests from India and Pakistan, urging resolution through the PIC.
 - Pakistan refused to discuss the issue during PIC meetings, leading the World Bank to initiate actions on Neutral Expert and Court of Arbitration.
 - The Treaty does not empower the World Bank to decide whether one procedure should take precedence over the other.
 - The World Bank sought to fulfill its procedural obligations with respect to both the CoA and the Neutral Expert.
- India's Opposition:

- India opposes the constitution of the CoA, citing contravention of Indus Waters Treaty provisions.
- India also questioned the jurisdiction and competence of the CoA, stating that it was not properly constituted as per the treaty.
- India has not appointed arbitrators or attended the court's proceedings, emphasizing the need for a single dispute resolution process.

What is the Ruling of the Permanent Court of Arbitration?

▪ Ruling:

- The PCA ruled that the Court of Arbitration (CoA) has the competence to consider Pakistan's objections to India's hydroelectric projects in Jammu and Kashmir.
- The ruling was based on a unanimous decision, binding on both parties and without any possibility of appeal.
- The PCA rejected India's objections to the competence of the CoA, as raised through its communications with the World Bank.

▪ India's Response:

- India has been maintaining that it will not join the Pakistan-initiated proceedings at the PCA as the dispute is being already examined by a neutral expert under the framework of the IWT.

▪ Implications:

- The PCA's ruling adds complexity and uncertainty to the ongoing dispute between India and Pakistan regarding the hydroelectric projects.
- The ruling challenges India's position and raises questions about the effectiveness and interpretation of the IWT.
- The implications of the ruling extend beyond the specific dispute, potentially impacting bilateral relations between India and Pakistan, particularly concerning water-sharing and cooperation.
