

Uncertainty Regarding India's Next National Census

Source: TH

Why in News?

Recently, the deadline to freeze administrative boundaries for the Census expired without a new date announced. Thus, creating uncertainty around the timing of the Census exercise.

What are the Recent Updates Regarding the Census Exercise in India?

- Deadline Extensions: The deadline for freezing administrative boundaries necessary for the Census has been extended nine times since December 2020.
- Impact of Recent Extensions:
 - On Census Timeline:
 - This extension effectively postpones the commencement of the Census to at least 1st October 2024 as it typically takes three months to prepare enumerators for the task. This lack of clarity adds to the uncertainty surrounding the Census schedule.
 - On Women's Reservation Act:
 - The implementation of the women's reservation, which reserves 33% of seats in Parliament and State Assemblies for women, hinges on the completion of the Census and subsequent delimitation exercises.
 - Delimitation based on the new Census data is necessary before the reservation can be enacted.
- Additional Considerations:
 - Few political parties has demanded the inclusion of a caste census in the upcoming Census exercise. This demand underscores broader discussions on social categorisation and representation within Indian society.

What is the Census?

Historical Context and Frequency:

- India's first synchronised census occurred in 1881 under W.C. Plowden, the then Census Commissioner of India. Since then, it has been conducted every decade without interruption.
- While the Census of India Act of 1948 provides the legal framework, it doesn't specify a mandatory frequency.

- The decennial pattern is a convention rather than a constitutional requirement.
- The Office of the Registrar General and Census Commissioner of India, operating under the Ministry of Home Affairs, oversees the responsibility of conducting this decadal enumeration exercise.

▪ Objective:

- The Census provides a snapshot of the nation's population, serving as a foundation for reviewing progress, evaluating government schemes, and planning future initiatives.

▪ Methodology: The Census is conducted in two main phases:

- Houselisting/Housing Census: This initial phase records details of all structures, including their type, amenities, and assets.
- Population Enumeration: This more comprehensive phase collects detailed information about each individual in the country, regardless of nationality.

▪ Global Perspective:

- While India follows a 10-year cycle, similar to countries like the US and UK, some nations like Australia, Canada, and Japan conduct their censuses every five years.

Census Data 2011

- Population: Grew by 17.7% to 1.21 billion, with female growth outpacing male growth.
- Literacy: Rose to 73%, with women's literacy improving more than men's.
- Population Density: Increased to 382 people per square kilometer.
- Sex Ratio: Improved to 940 females per 1000 males.
- Religious Demographics: Hindus at 79.8%, Muslims at 14.23% of population.
- New Category: "No religion" option introduced, with 0.24% identifying as such.
