

Women Swept Away in Uttarakhand Rivers | Uttarakhand | 13 Aug 2024

Why in News?

Recently, Three women were swept away by strong currents in Ganga and Bhagirathi rivers in Uttarakhand.

Key Points

- A State Disaster Response Force \(SDRF\) team has launched a search operation in the area.
- Bhagirathi River:
 - It is a turbulent Himalayan river of Uttarakhand, and one of the two headstreams of the Ganges.
 - The Bhagirathi rises at the foot of Gangotri Glacier, at Gaumukh, at an elevation of 3892 m and fanning out into the 350 km wide Ganga delta, it finally empties into the Bay of Bengal.
 - The Bhagirathi and Alaknanda join at Devprayag in Garhwal and are thereafter known as the Ganges.

