

Participation of Women & Youth in State Assemblies

Why in News

Recent data from the three new state assemblies, which are West Bengal, Kerala and Tamil Nadu, show less numbers of women and youth Member of Legislative Assemblies (MLAs).

- The data of the 2019 lok sabha elections also show that the participation of women is low. According to a list compiled by the Inter-Parliamentary Union in 2019, India ranks 153 out of 190 nations in the percentage of women in the lower house of world parliaments.
- India is young. Its leaders are not. The country's median age is 29. The average parliamentarian is 55.

Key Points

Reasons for Less Number of Women MLAs:

- Illiteracy It is one of the main hurdles in making women politically empowered.
- Work and Family - Uneven distribution of household work between men and women is also one of the important factors in this regard.
- Lack of Political Networks The lack of openness in political decision-making and undemocratic internal processes pose a challenge for all newcomers, but particularly for women as they tend to lack insider knowledge or political networks.
- Lack of Resources Because of their low proportion in the inner political party structure of India, women fail to gather resources and support for nurturing their political constituencies.
- Lack of Financial Support Women do not get adequate financial support from the political parties to contest the elections.
- Societal and Cultural Norms These norms imposed on women bar them from entering politics.
- Unfriendly Environment Overall political parties' environment too is not womenfriendly, they have to struggle hard and face multi-dimensional issues to create space for them in the party.

Reasons for Less Number of Youth MLAs:

- False Believe - Political parties believe that the youth, having not seen enough of life, are unprepared for the demands of top-flight politics.
- Youth will not be taken seriously Political parties fear that Indian electors who respect older politicians will not take young candidates seriously.
- Veterans not leaving Key party decision makers, typically veterans, do not want to yield space.
- Muscle power politics Politicians use muscle and money power to prevent entry of good people to enter politics.
- Less chance of success The chances of failure are high and very few people become successful.
- Good people avoid politics General perception of a common man about a politician is someone who is deceptive and corrupt. So people from well to do fields tend to avoid themselves being listed in categories of politicians.
- Unethical practices Many fail to enter due to dirty politics and due to fear of harm to good image. Unethical practices have become the norm in politics.
- Nepotism It plays a major role and many youth who become successful politicians belong to influential political families.
- Other reasons Rising campaign spending and rotational reservation in municipal, panchayat and mayoral elections have created barriers to upward movement for aspiring young politicians.

Way Forward

Source:IE

- It is the need of the hour in a country like India to have equal participation of all the sections of society in mainstream political activity therefore necessary steps should be taken to promote it.
- Considering legally-backed youth and women quotas which could be in the form of either seats exclusively (and rotationally) reserved for youth and women or a specified proportion of young candidates all registered parties contesting an election must field.
- Municipal and panchayat polls should give rise to leaders who have experience at the ground level. Such leaders, after some experience, should be able to run for state and eventually the central legislative seats.
- Promoting Inner party democracy, where in a democratic political party the various positions like president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer etc are filled by the election process.
