Why in News?

The Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA),2005 has been a crucial lifeline for rural workers in India. However, a recent report by the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Rural Development and Panchayati Raj has shed light on a concerning issue regarding the implementation of the scheme.

What are the Key Highlights of the Report?

- Limited Distribution of Benefits:
 - The report reveals that out of 7,124 eligible workers in the last five years, only 258 received benefits, accounting for approximately 3% of the total.
 - According to Section 7(1) of MGNREGA, 2005, individuals not employed within 15 days are entitled to a daily unemployment allowance.
- State-specific Data:
 - State governments are responsible for providing unemployment allowance based on their economic capacity.
 - Karnataka reported the highest number of eligible workers (2,467) but none received benefits.
 - Rajasthan ranked second, with 1,831 eligible workers, of which only nine received benefits.
 - Bihar, West Bengal, Jharkhand, and Uttar Pradesh also showed poor distribution records.
 - Despite eligibility, workers in these states either received inadequate benefits or none at all.
- Pending Compensation for Delayed Wages:
 - The committee was informed that from the financial year 2018-19 until November 21, 2024, a total of over Rs 13 crores was sanctioned for compensation, and only around Rs 10 crores were paid, leaving a significant amount pending.
 - The responsibility of paying interest lies with the state government, according to the Department of Rural Development.
 - The MGNREGA states that if wages are not paid within 15 days of the closure of the muster roll, workers are entitled to compensation for the delay. The compensation is 0.05% of the unpaid wages per day of delay beyond the sixteenth day of closure of the muster roll.
- Recommendations by the Committee:
 - The committee recommended coordinated efforts between the Central Rural Development Department and state governments to ensure proper disbursement of henefits
 - Measures should be taken to address the non-payment of unemployment benefits.
