Why in News?

Recently, the formation of a Select Committee for the Delhi Services Bill, has sparked controversy after several Members of Parliament \(MPs\) claimed that their names were included without their consent.

- However, the Delhi Services Bill has been passed by both the houses of Parliament.

What is a Select Committee?

▪ About:

- Select Committees are a category of ad hoc or temporary committees established with the specific purpose of examining and scrutinizing particular Bills.
 - Its membership is limited to MPs from one House.
 - These committees are dissolved once their designated task has been fulfilled.
- Although temporary, the procedures and rules governing Select Committees are well-defined within the Rules of Procedure of the Parliament.

Note: Committees constituted for a specific purpose, with MPs from both Houses are called Joint Parliamentary Committees (JPC).

▪ Formation of Select Committees:

- The formation of a Select Committee can be initiated through a motion proposed by the Minister in-charge of the Bill or any member of the Parliament.
- This proposal is then presented to the House for adoption. If adopted, the Committee is formed to consider and report on the referred Bill.

▪ Selecting Members for a Select Committee:

- The members of a Select Committee are specifically named in the motion that calls for the Bill to be referred to the Committee.
 - These members are appointed by the House, and their consent is a crucial aspect of the process.
- While Rajya Sabha rules mandate that no member can be appointed to a Select Committee if they are not willing to serve on it, the rules do not explicitly require the collection of signatures for proposed members.

▪ Quorum:

- The composition of a Select Committee varies depending on its purpose. It operates with a quorum of one-third of the total number of members.
 - If there's a tie in votes, the chairman (or presiding person) has a casting vote.

▪ Function:

- The primary duty of a Select Committee is to meticulously review the Bill, examining its clauses to ensure they accurately reflect the intended purpose and objectives of the measure.

- The Committee can gather information through memoranda from experts, oral evidence, and government officials.
- After evaluating the evidence, the Committee formulates its conclusions, which may involve amending clauses to align them with the Bill's intent.
 - It can also form sub-committees to address specific aspects of the Bill.
- The committee's report, including any dissenting opinions, is presented to the House.
 - The reports of the Select Committee are recommendatory in nature. The government can choose to accept or reject the committee's recommendations.
