- Disparities in Fast-Track Court Availability:
 - While states such as Uttar Pradesh, Maharashtra, and Tamil Nadu have maintained a high number of operational fast-track courts, others have far fewer or, in some cases, none.
 - These disparities are a reflection of local resource limitations, varying levels of prioritization, and differing administrative capabilities.

- Inconsistent Implementation: The establishment and functioning of fast-track courts can vary significantly across states, resulting in uneven access to justice and inconsistent application of legal standards.
- Quality of Judicial Personnel: The recruitment and training of judges and support staff may not always align with the specialized needs of fast-track courts, impacting the quality of judicial decision-making.
