

Chhattisgarh Activist to Receive Green Nobel

Why in News?

Chhattisgarh's environmental activist and convener of Chhattisgarh Bachao Andolan (CBA), Alok Shukla has been selected for prestigious international level award Goldman Environmental Prize 2024, also known as the Green Nobel.

Key Points

- He is selected for his struggles and initiatives to protect the environment including Hasdeo
  Arand, one of the largest dense forests in central India spanning up to 170,000 hectares, having 23 coal blocks into it. He will be felicitated in the United States.
- He successfully campaigned and mobilized the indigenous communities and those affected by coal mining to campaign against Adani mining to save 445,000 acres of biodiversityrich forests from 21 planned coal mines in the tribal dominated state Chhattisgarh.
  - In 2009, the environment ministry notified Hasdeo Arand to be a "No-Go" zone for mining due to its rich forest cover but opened it again for mining. The CBA continuously fought to make Hasdeo Arand mining free.

Hasdeo Arand Forest

- Hasdeo Arand, a sprawling forest in the northern part of Chhattisgarh is known for its biodiversity and its coal deposits.
- The forest falls under Korba, Sujapur and Surguja districts with significant tribal population.
- The Hasdeo river, a tributary of Mahanadi, flows through it.
- Hasdeo Arand is the largest un-fragmented forest in Central India consisting of pristine
  Sal (Shorea robusta) and teak forests.
- It is a noted migratory corridor and has a significant presence of elephants.

Green Nobel Prize

■ The Goldman Environmental Prize (also known as Green Nobel Prize) recognizes individuals for sustained and significant efforts to protect and enhance the natural environment, often at great personal risk.

Vision

- It has been awarded annually by the Goldman Environmental Foundation since 1990.
- It honours people from the world's six continental regions: Africa, Asia, Europe, Islands & Island Nations, North America, and South & Central America.
- The Goldman Prize views "grassroots" leaders as those involved in local efforts, where positive change is created through community or citizen participation in the issues that affect them.
- Goldman Prize recipients are usually people from isolated villages or inner cities who choose to take great personal risks to safeguard the environment.
- The winners are announced on Earth Day which is observed on 22nd April every year.
