 The 15th Finance Commission, in its report, expressed significant concern over delays in constituting SFCs.

What are the Key Points about State Finance Commissions (SFCs)?

- About: SFCs are constitutional bodies established by states under Article 243-I of the Indian Constitution.
  - As per Article 243-I, the Governor is required to constitute an SFC within one year from the enactment of the 73rd Constitutional Amendment Act, 1992 and every five years thereafter.
- Mandate: Their primary role is to recommend the distribution of financial resources between the state government and its local bodies i.e., Panchayati Raj Institutions (PRIs) and urban local bodies (ULBs).
- 15th Finance Commission on SFCs: The 15th Finance Commission recommended states establish SFCs, implement their recommendations, and submit an action report to the legislature.
  - It suggested withholding grants for states that do not comply with these requirements.
- Role of Ministry of Panchayati Raj: It is tasked with certifying compliance by states with constitutional provisions for SFCs before the release of grants for 2024-25 and 2025-26.

Why Appointment of State Finance Commissions (SFCs) is Important?

- Constitutional Requirement: Regular and timely constitution of SFCs every five years under Article 243(I) is a constitutional mandate aimed at ensuring financial health and autonomy of local bodies.
- Fiscal Devolution: The distribution of state revenues among local tiers ensures a fair allocation of funds, balancing the financial strength of local bodies.
  - This role complements the Union Finance Commission's allocation of central funds to states and local bodies.

- Enhancing Accountability: By evaluating financial needs, suggesting optimal utilisation of resources, and recommending fiscal measures, SFCs can drive local governments to improve service delivery and become more responsive to citizens' needs.
  - SFCs provide mechanisms for performance-based evaluation, which could lead to a system of rewards and penalties, fostering better governance practices at the local level.
- Addressing Local Needs Directly: Local governance bodies impact daily life by providing services like sanitation, health, education, and infrastructure.
  - Proper funding and financial autonomy, supported by SFC recommendations, are key to improving service quality.
- Bridging the Functional and Financial Gap: Local bodies often face unfunded mandates due to a lack of financial resources.
  - SFCs address this by recommending financial devolution based on responsibilities, ensuring local governments have the resources to meet their obligations.
  - SFCs can streamline fiscal transfers, improve funding predictability, and reduce volatility with effective recommendations.
- Political and Administrative Decentralisation: The role of SFCs extends beyond fiscal recommendations. It serves to empower local elected representatives like municipal councillors and panchayat pradhans.

What are the Problems with State Finance Commissions (SFCs)?

- Compliance Issues: The 15th Finance Commission (2021-26) highlighted that only nine states have constituted their 6th SFC, even though it was due in 2019-20 for all states.
  - Many states remain stuck at the 2nd or 3rd SFC, indicating a lack of timely renewal and updates.
- Lack of Political Will: There is widespread resistance among state governments to fully devolve power and resources to local bodies, as intended by the 73rd and 74th constitutional amendments.
- Resource Deficiencies: SFCs often need to start from scratch when collecting data due to a lack of readily available and organised information, further hampering their effectiveness.
- Deficiencies in Expertise: Many SFCs are led by bureaucrats or politicians, lacking domain experts and public finance professionals.
  - The absence of qualified technocrats diminishes the credibility and quality of SFC recommendations, which weakens their impact.
- Opaqueness: States often fail to table Action Taken Reports (ATRs) in the legislature after SFC recommendations, reducing transparency and accountability.
- Ignorance of SFC Recommendations: There is a pattern of non-compliance with SFC recommendations by state governments, which undermines the role of SFCs in shaping fiscal policies for local governance.
- Peoples' Resistance: Experts note that urban local bodies face neglect, with low political awareness and limited public engagement, which worsens the state of fiscal decentralisation.

Way Forward

- Compliance with Constitutional Deadline: States must form SFCs every five years as required by the constitution. Those missing deadlines should be held accountable, with regular monitoring to ensure compliance.
- Reducing Political Resistance: State governments should be aware of the benefits of financial autonomy for local governments, leading to better services, citizen satisfaction, and accountable governance.
- Public Finance Experts: States should ensure commissions are led by economists, finance experts, and relevant professionals, not just bureaucrats and politicians to enhance their efficiency.
- Strengthening Local Data Systems: Local bodies should adopt modern data systems for accurate financial reporting, aiding SFCs in making informed recommendations.
- Action Taken Reports (ATRs): States must table Action Taken Reports (ATRs) in the legislature, outlining timelines and measures to implement SFC recommendations for better transparency and accountability.
  - Independent bodies can be tasked with evaluating the effectiveness of financial devolution and the implementation of SFC recommendations.
- Incentive Framework: The Ministry should create a rewards system for states that excel in SFC compliance, encouraging others to improve local governance.
