

Policy to Manage Sacred Groves | Rajasthan | 21 Dec 2024

Why in News?

Recently, in a judgment the Supreme Court told the Union government to create a comprehensive policy for the management of sacred groves across the country.

Key Points

- Supreme Court's Recommendation:
 - The Union government was urged to spearhead efforts for the protection of sacred groves through the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change (MoEF&CC).
 - While wildlife and habitat management has been primarily the responsibility of State governments, the Court emphasized the importance of preserving sacred groves as part of cultural and traditional rights.
- Action Plan for Sacred Groves:
 - The MoEF&CC was tasked with developing a plan for a nationwide survey of sacred groves, including identifying their area and extent.
 - The Union government was directed to issue strict instructions to prevent the reduction of sacred groves due to deforestation or land use changes.
 - The boundaries of the groves must be marked but remain flexible for future growth.
- Court's Directives for Rajasthan:
 - The Court directed the Rajasthan government to map sacred groves using both on-ground and satellite methods.
 - These groves should be classified as forests and granted legal protection under the Wild Life (Protection) Act, 1972, regardless of their size.
- Empowerment of Traditional Communities:
 - The Court suggested empowering traditional communities, especially under the Forest Rights Act, 2006, as custodians of sacred groves.
 - These communities should be given authority to regulate harmful activities to preserve their legacy of stewardship and promote sustainable conservation.

Sacred Groves

- Sacred groves are forest patches traditionally protected by local communities due to their religious and cultural importance.
- These groves also play a significant role in conserving local biodiversity.
- Sacred groves are commonly found in Tamil Nadu, Kerala, Karnataka, and Maharashtra.
