Why in News?

Recently, a World Health Organization study published in the Lancet medical journal revealed that adolescent girls aged between 15 and 19 who have been in relationships have experienced physical or sexual violence.

- The survey was conducted with thousands of adolescent girls from 154 countries and regions.

What are the Key Highlights of the WHO Study on Adolescent Girls?

- Key Highlights:
  - Prevalence: It reveals that nearly a quarter (24%) of adolescent girls who have been in a relationship have experienced physical and/or sexual intimate partner violence by age 20.
    - Approximately 1 in 6 (16%) adolescent girls reported experiencing such violence in the past year.
    - No country is currently on track to eliminate violence against women and girls by the 2030 Sustainable Development Goal \(Goal 5\) target date.
  - Regional Variations: The highest prevalence rates are in Oceania (47%) (e.g. 49% of girls reporting intimate partner violence in Papua New Guinea) and 40% in central sub-Saharan Africa (e.g. In the Democratic Republic of Congo 42% reporting intimate partner violence).
    - The lowest rates are in central Europe (10%) and central Asia (11%).
- Factors Influencing Prevalence: Higher rates of violence are found in lower-income countries, regions with fewer girls in secondary education, and areas where girls have weaker legal property ownership and inheritance rights.
  - Child marriage significantly increases the risk of intimate partner violence due to power imbalances, economic dependency, and social isolation.
    - According to the UN, 1 in 5 young women worldwide (19%) were married in childhood in 2022.
- Implications of Intimate Partner Violence:
  - Increased likelihood of injuries, depression, anxiety disorders, unplanned pregnancies, and sexually transmitted infections.
  - Long-term physical and psychological impacts.
  - Negative effects on educational achievement, future relationships, and lifelong prospects.

What are the Steps Needed to Empower Adolescent Girls?

- WHO Recommendations and Interventions:
  - Strengthening support services and early prevention measures tailored for adolescents.
  - School-based programs to educate both boys and girls on healthy relationships and violence prevention.
  - Legal protections and economic empowerment initiatives for women and girls.
    - Ensuring secondary education for all girls.
    - Securing gender-equal property rights.
    - Ending harmful practices such as child marriage.
  - Supporting countries to measure and address violence against women.
- Other Steps Needed:
  - Access to Healthcare: Ensure that healthcare providers are trained to recognize and respond to signs of intimate partner violence.
    - Provide mental health services and counselling for affected girls.
  - Challenging Gender Norms: Work to change societal norms and attitudes that perpetuate gender inequality and violence against women and girls.
    - Raise awareness in communities about the signs and consequences of intimate partner violence and the importance of gender equality.
    - Ensure that girls and women have equal property ownership and inheritance rights.
  - Continuous Monitoring: Conduct regular surveys and studies to monitor the prevalence of intimate partner violence and the effectiveness of intervention programs.
    - Use data to inform and develop policies and programs aimed at reducing intimate partner violence.
  - Global Efforts: Collaborate with international organizations like WHO to share best practices and resources.
    - Develop comprehensive national action plans to address intimate partner violence, integrating health, education, and legal sectors.
