

Moldova and Transnistria

Source: BBC

Recently, Ukraine has stopped the transit of Russian gas through its territory, ending a major supply route to Europe after a prewar transit deal expired in December 2024.

- It led to an energy crisis in Moldova and Transnistria which heavily relies on Russian gas for power supply and heating amid winter.
- Moldova:
 - Moldova is a small eastern european landlocked country bordered by Ukraine to the east and Romania to the west.
 - Recently, Moldova has inaugurated its embassy in New Delhi.
 - India and Moldova established diplomatic relations in 1992 following Moldova's independence after the Soviet Union collapsed in 1991.
- Transnistria:
 - It is a Russian-backed breakaway region in Moldova described as a “remnant of the Soviet Union” that split from the rest of Moldova after the Soviet Union collapsed in 1991.
 - When Moldovan troops attempted to take over the territory in 1990-1992, Transnistria was able to resist them because of Russian soldiers based in Transnistria. Since then, it has remained free of Moldovan control.
 - However, most countries continue to see Transnistria as part of Moldova. It is not recognized as independent even by Russia.
 - Most Transnistrians have dual citizenship of Russia and Transnistria or triple citizenship of Moldova, Transnistria, and Russia.

//

Moldova's Transnistria issue

While the Russia-Ukraine war continues, explosions in Moldova's Transnistria region draw attention

The population of the region is about 500,000

Russian passports were distributed to the people in the region

Transnistria has a so-called constitution, flag and currency, as well as separate so-called administration, parliament, army, police and postal system from Chisinau

No UN member country recognizes Transnistria as a state

CRISIS BEGAN 30 YEARS AGO

1991

Moldova declared independence from the Soviet Union

Transnistria, on the east bank of the Dniester River, also declared its independence unilaterally

1991-22 July 1992

After the declaration of independence, armed conflicts took place between Moldova and Transnistria.

Clashes ended with a cease-fire signed between Russia and Moldova

Russia deployed its military contingent in Transnistria

1993

Negotiations on the issue carried out within the OSCE since 1993

27.04.2022

Read More: Russia-Ukraine Conflict, Opening of Moldova's Embassy in India , Transnistria in the Russia-Ukraine War

