

Z-Morh Tunnel | Jammu & Kashmir | 13 Jan 2025

Why in News?

The Z-Morh Tunnel, inaugurated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on 13th January, 2025, is a 6.5-kilometer-long, two-lane road tunnel connecting Gagangir in Ganderbal district to Sonamarg in Jammu and Kashmir.

- Situated at an altitude of 8,650 feet, the tunnel is designed to provide all-weather connectivity.

Key Points

- The tunnel is strategically located on the Srinagar-Leh National Highway, facilitating year-round access to the Ladakh region, which was previously hindered by seasonal road closures due to heavy snowfall and avalanches.
 - Constructed at a cost of ₹2,400 crore, the Z-Morh Tunnel comprises a 6.4-kilometer main tunnel, an egress tunnel, and approach roads.
 - It features a two-lane bi-directional road with a parallel 7.5-meter-wide escape passage for emergencies.
- Beyond enhancing civilian travel, the tunnel holds significant strategic importance for defense logistics, ensuring uninterrupted connectivity to the Ladakh region, which is in proximity to the China border.
- Benefits:
 - The tunnel is expected to boost tourism in Sonamarg, known for attractions like the Thajiwas Glacier and activities such as whitewater rafting on the Sind River.
 - By providing all-weather access, the tunnel is anticipated to stimulate economic growth in the region, facilitating trade and improving the quality of life for residents.
 - The tunnel is part of the larger Zojila Tunnel project, aimed at ensuring all-weather connectivity between Srinagar and Ladakh.
