Why in News?

Recently, the NITI Aayog has released a position paper titled “Senior Care Reforms in India: Reimagining the Senior Care Paradigm”, which calls for action on what needs to be done to bring a greater focus on senior care.

What are the Key Highlights of the Report?

- Population Ageing:
 - India is witnessing exponential growth in the number and proportion of elderly people, coupled with a decreasing fertility rate (less than 2.0) and increasing life expectancy (more than 70 years).
 - The elderly in India currently comprise a little over 10% of the population, which translates to about 104 million. According to the United Nations Population Fund \(UNFPA\), this demographic is projected to reach 19.5% of the total population by 2050.
- Major Key Findings:
 - Demographics and Trends: The elderly population (aged 60 years and above) constituted 8.6% of India's total population in the 2011 Census, with approximately 103 million elderly individuals.
 - Health Status and Challenges: The transition from high to low mortality rates has shifted a substantial burden of disease to the older population.
 - The number of people aged 75 years and above is expected to increase by an astounding 340% between 2011 and 2050.
 - Rural Urban Divide: 71% of elderly persons reside in rural areas.
 - Life Satisfaction: Nearly 32% of the elderly reported low life satisfaction
- Lack of Comprehensive Policy:
 - There is an absence of a comprehensive, integrated policy for senior care and support as a significant challenge.
 - This lack of a structured policy framework leads to gaps in infrastructure, capacities, evidence-based knowledge repositories for geriatric illness management, and enabling frameworks for monitoring mechanisms and emergency response systems.
 - Access to healthcare services can be a challenge for older adults in India, particularly those living in rural areas.
 - As per the National Health Profile, in 2017, there were only 43 physicians per 100,000 population in rural areas, compared to 118 physicians per 100,000 population in urban areas.

▪ Challenges and Implications:

- The phenomenon of population aging impacts all aspects of society and has numerous health, social, and economic implications, including changes in labour and financial markets.
- The Longitudinal Ageing Study of India (LASI) 2021 report highlights that a significant portion of the elderly population suffers from chronic diseases, functional limitations, depressive symptoms, and low life satisfaction.
 - 75% of the elderly have one or more chronic diseases.
- It shifts disease burden, rising dependency ratios, evolving family structures, and altered consumption patterns.
- Every 4th Indian over 60 years reported having poor health.
- Moreover, medical expenses are more than double for this population segment as older people are likely to consume more healthcare services.

- Around 20% of the elderly in India have mental health issues.

Key challenges and issues around senior care in India the Key Recommendations of the Report?

What are

- The report has categorised the specific interventions needed in terms of empowerment, service delivery, and their inclusions under four core areas: Health, Social, Economic/Financial, and Digital.
 - Health: Health empowerment and inclusion can be achieved by promoting health literacy among seniors as well as their caregivers, strengthening geriatric healthcare within the existing healthcare system, and making special provisions for seniors.
 - This will encompass Comprehensive Primary Healthcare Services through the Ayushman Bharat - Ayushman Arogya Mandir (Health and Wellness Centres), strengthening healthcare infrastructure with a focus on needs of elderly, expanding tele-consultation services, enhancing the skilled workforce for the elderly, and capacity building of existing workforce.
 - Social: For ensuring social inclusion and empowerment, specific actions such as creating awareness to sensitise the larger community on the needs and challenges experienced by the elderly, and establishing peer support groups are needed.
 - Empowerment of the elderly will also come through awareness of existing legal safeguards, and welfare schemes and ensuring legal reforms like strengthening the existing Welfare and Maintenance Act.

- Economic and Financial: There is a need for reskilling the elderly population, increasing coverage of public funds and infrastructure, and mandatory savings plans for the affording segment.
 - Reverse Mortgage mechanism to increase liquidity for seniors and GST \(Goods and Service Tax\) reforms on senior care products to increase the ease of adoption and safeguard the elderly population from the financial burden.
 - Encouraging the private sector to design targeted and comprehensive geriatric health insurance products.
- Digital: There is a need to improve access to digital devices for seniors by making them affordable, focusing on increasing digital literacy, and harnessing the potential of modern technology.
- Silver Economy: Only a little more than one-third (34%) of the elderly are currently working.
 - Appropriate interventions are required on the part of the government to provide a thrust to the “silver economy,” i.e. economy driven by goods & services demanded by the elderly.
 - Further, work opportunities that can provide a platform for the elderly to use and utilise their experience and expertise in various sectors.
